

How to run BackEnd locally

Getting Started (Local Setup)

Follow these steps to run the backend locally.

1. Clone the Repository
2. Install Dependencies

Run “npm install” in terminal

3. Create .env file
4. How to get Cloudinary Name, Key & Secret?
 - a. Go to your Cloudinary profile
 - b. Go to section Product Environment setting → API Keys
 - c. Generate new API Key (Will ask you for enter code from your email)
 - d. Then you will new API key with name, key and secret to put in .env file
5. How to get Google Client ID?
 - a. Go to ConnectMyTask on Firebase
 - b. Top left corner, click on Project Overview → Project Setting
 - c. Go to Services accounts tab
 - d. Click on <some number> Service accounts
 - e. You should be in Google Cloud of ConnectMyTask project, if not try find way to get to ConnectMyTask project
 - f. Click Google Cloud logo to go back to home page
 - g. Click on APIs & Services → Credentials
 - h. Choose mine, Bao or create your own OAuth 2.0 Client ID
 - i. Paste in .env file
6. Generate new key
 - a. Firebase - Go to Project Overview → Project Setting → Services accounts tab
 - b. Click Generate New Private Key
 - c. It should download json file
 - d. rename that file to serviceAccountKey.json
 - e. Put the file into server/config folder
7. cd into “server” folder then start the server - 'npm start'
8. Everything should be working

(Tan - My PC didn't have MongoDB installed so I have to install MongoDB to run)

Just  Download MongoDB Community Server Download MongoDB Community Server from this link and it should be able to connect to MongoDB.

Screenshots

How to setup BackEnd on Mac - Screenshots

lamps-type-by0.craft.me